About us

De Vecchi Giuseppe srl (now DVG De Vecchi srl) was founded in 1965 as a mechanical workshop specialized in the production of components for espresso coffee machines.

Today, design and production remain our strengths, along with a warehouse of over 50.000 items that brings together a complete range of spare parts for coffee machines, coffee grinders, dishwashers, water softeners, accessories and equipment for Ho.Re.Ca.

Company overview

Experience

With 60 years of experience in the design and manufacturing of mechanical components for professional coffee machines, the company presents itself to customers as a reliable partner in developing new projects and maintaining current production processes.

Growth

During the early 2000s, the company went through its first generational transition, leading to new investments and an expansion of its products and services offer, resulting in an increase in the number of customers.

In the following years, the constant inclusion of new professional figures and new equipment allowed the company to create a solid structure as a complete and active partner for its customers.

Production

Italian pride

Direct production of the main components for coffee machines remains the company's strength. The internal mechanical workshop is equipped with CNC transfer machines and 5-axis machining centers, with robotic arms and automatic warehouses, CNC lathes with mobile tailstocks, bending machines, and tumblers.

The collaboration with small local businesses for the production of all the mechanical components, supported by a close relationship with the technical and quality control departments, demonstrates the company's commitment to maintaining a strong Made in Italy identity.

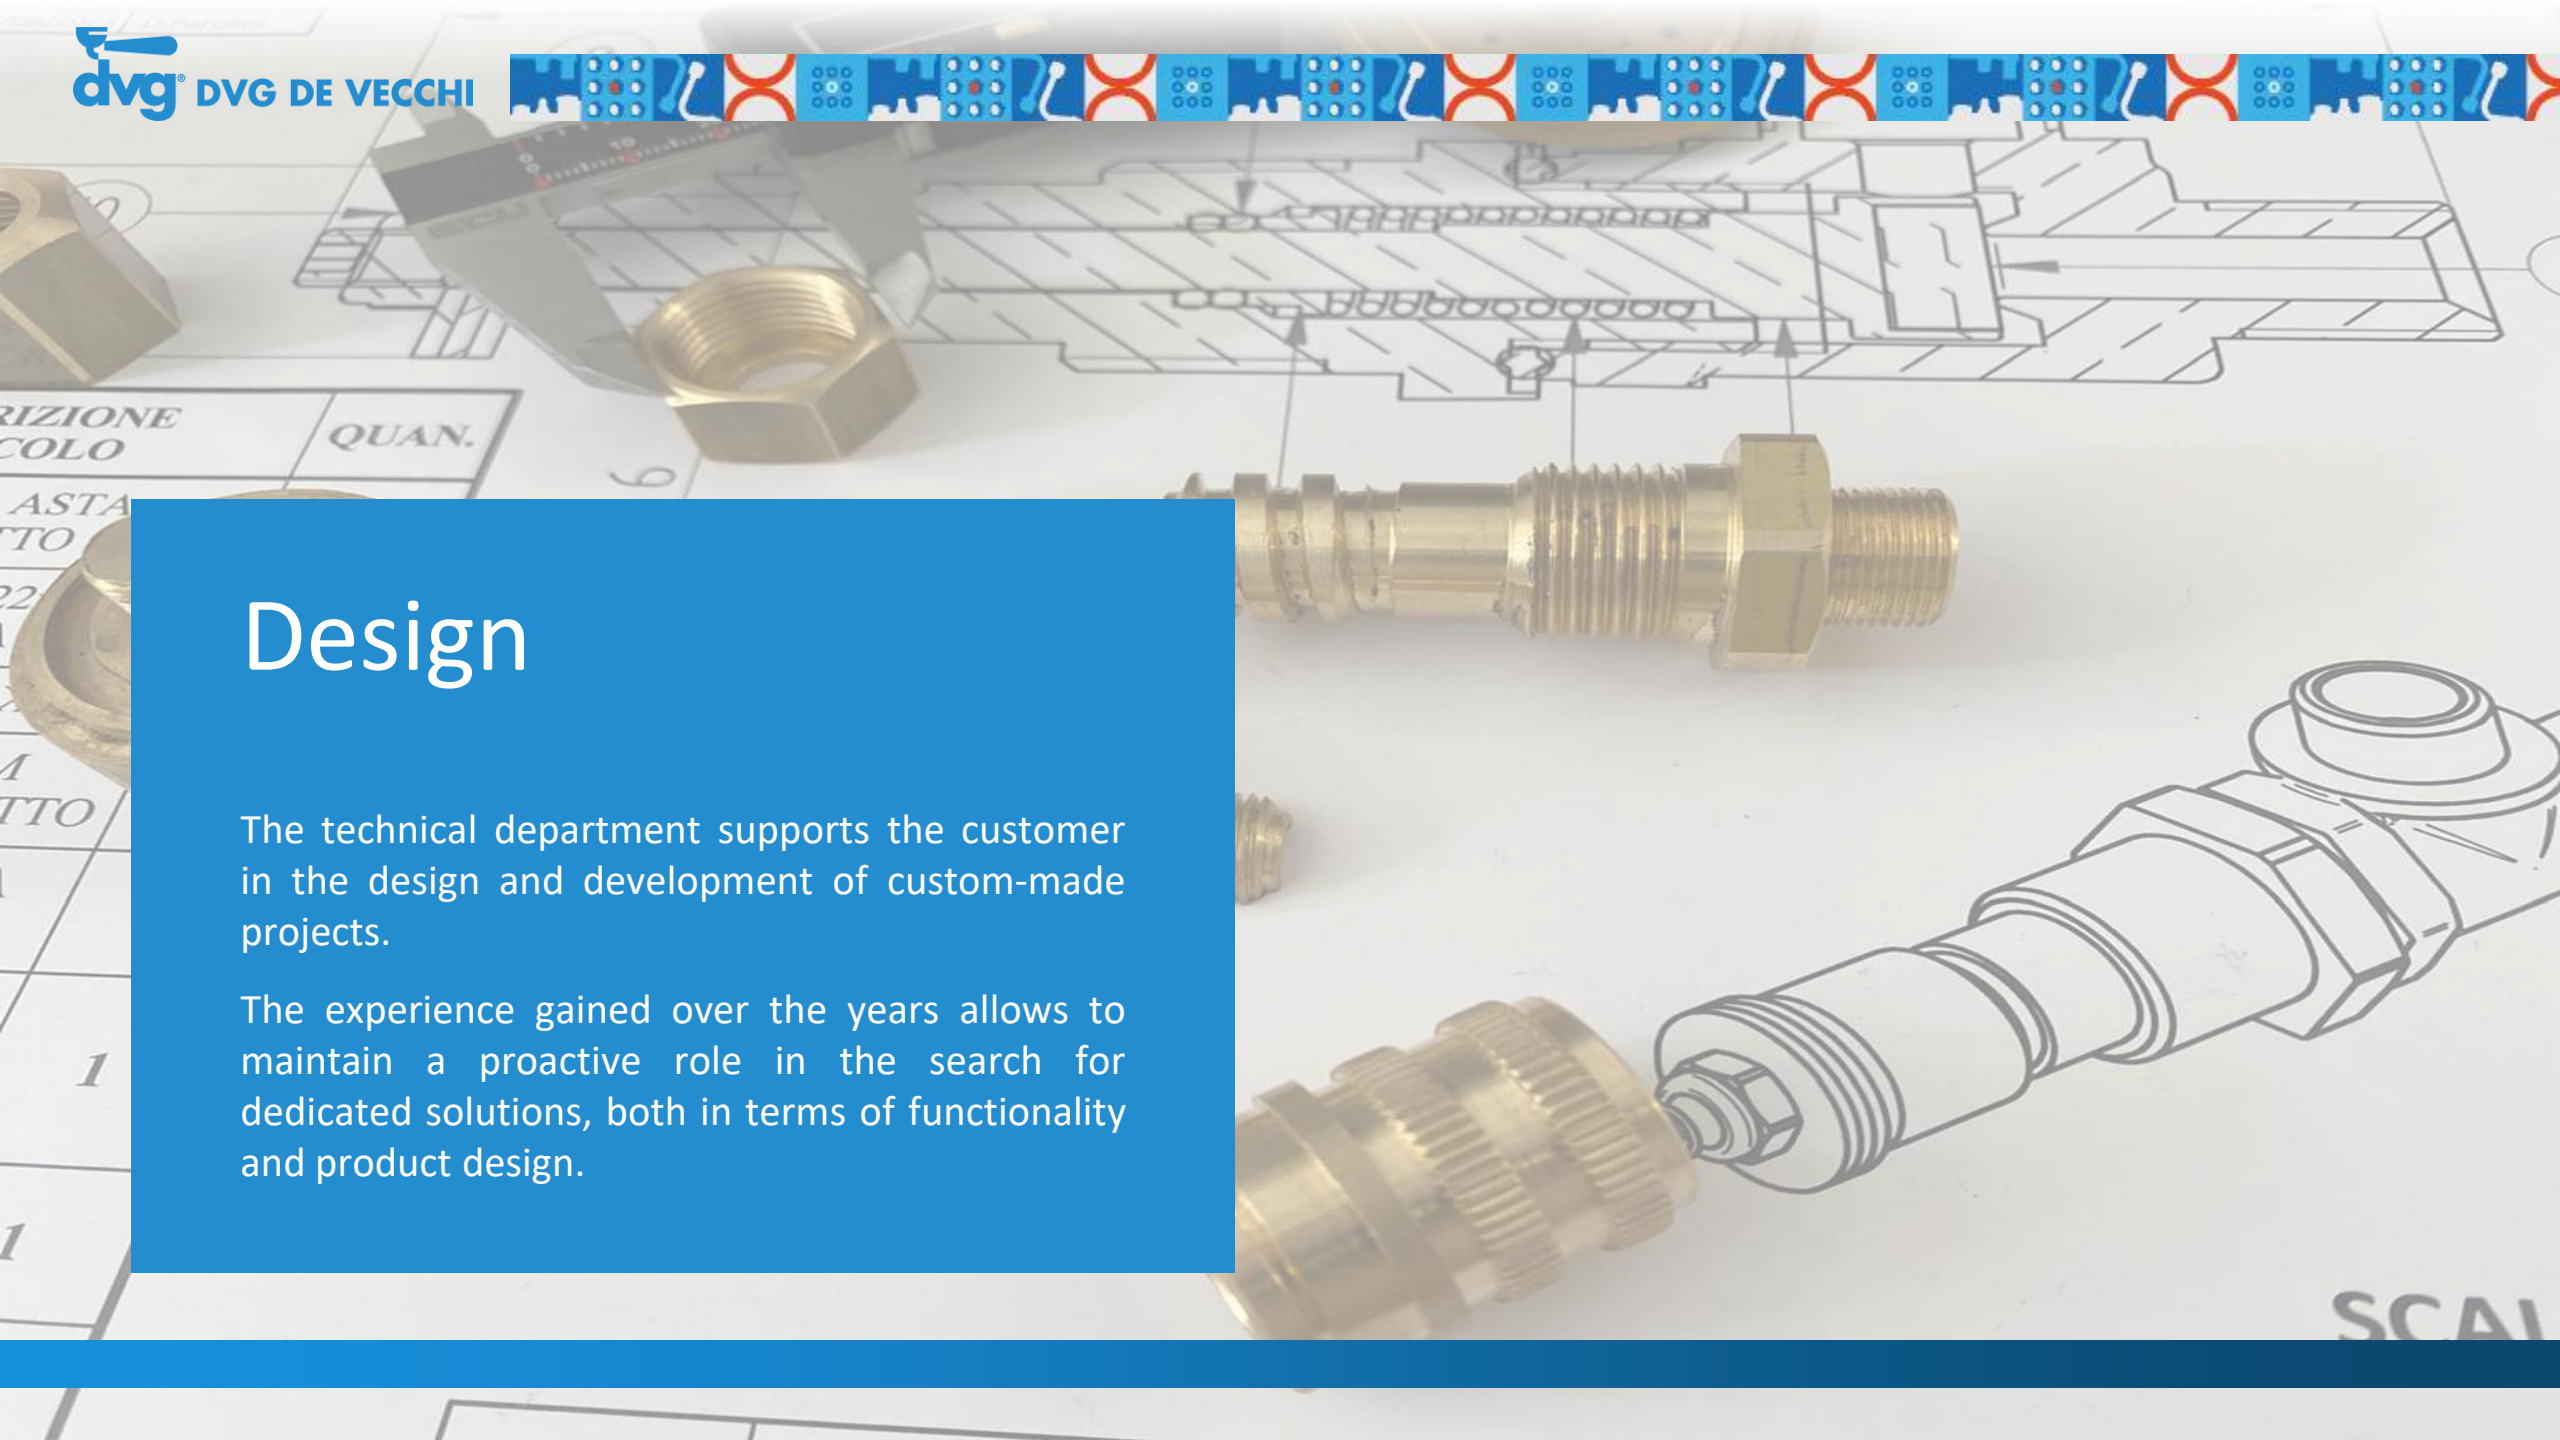

Design

The technical department supports the customer in the design and development of custom-made projects.

The experience gained over the years allows to maintain a proactive role in the search for dedicated solutions, both in terms of functionality and product design.

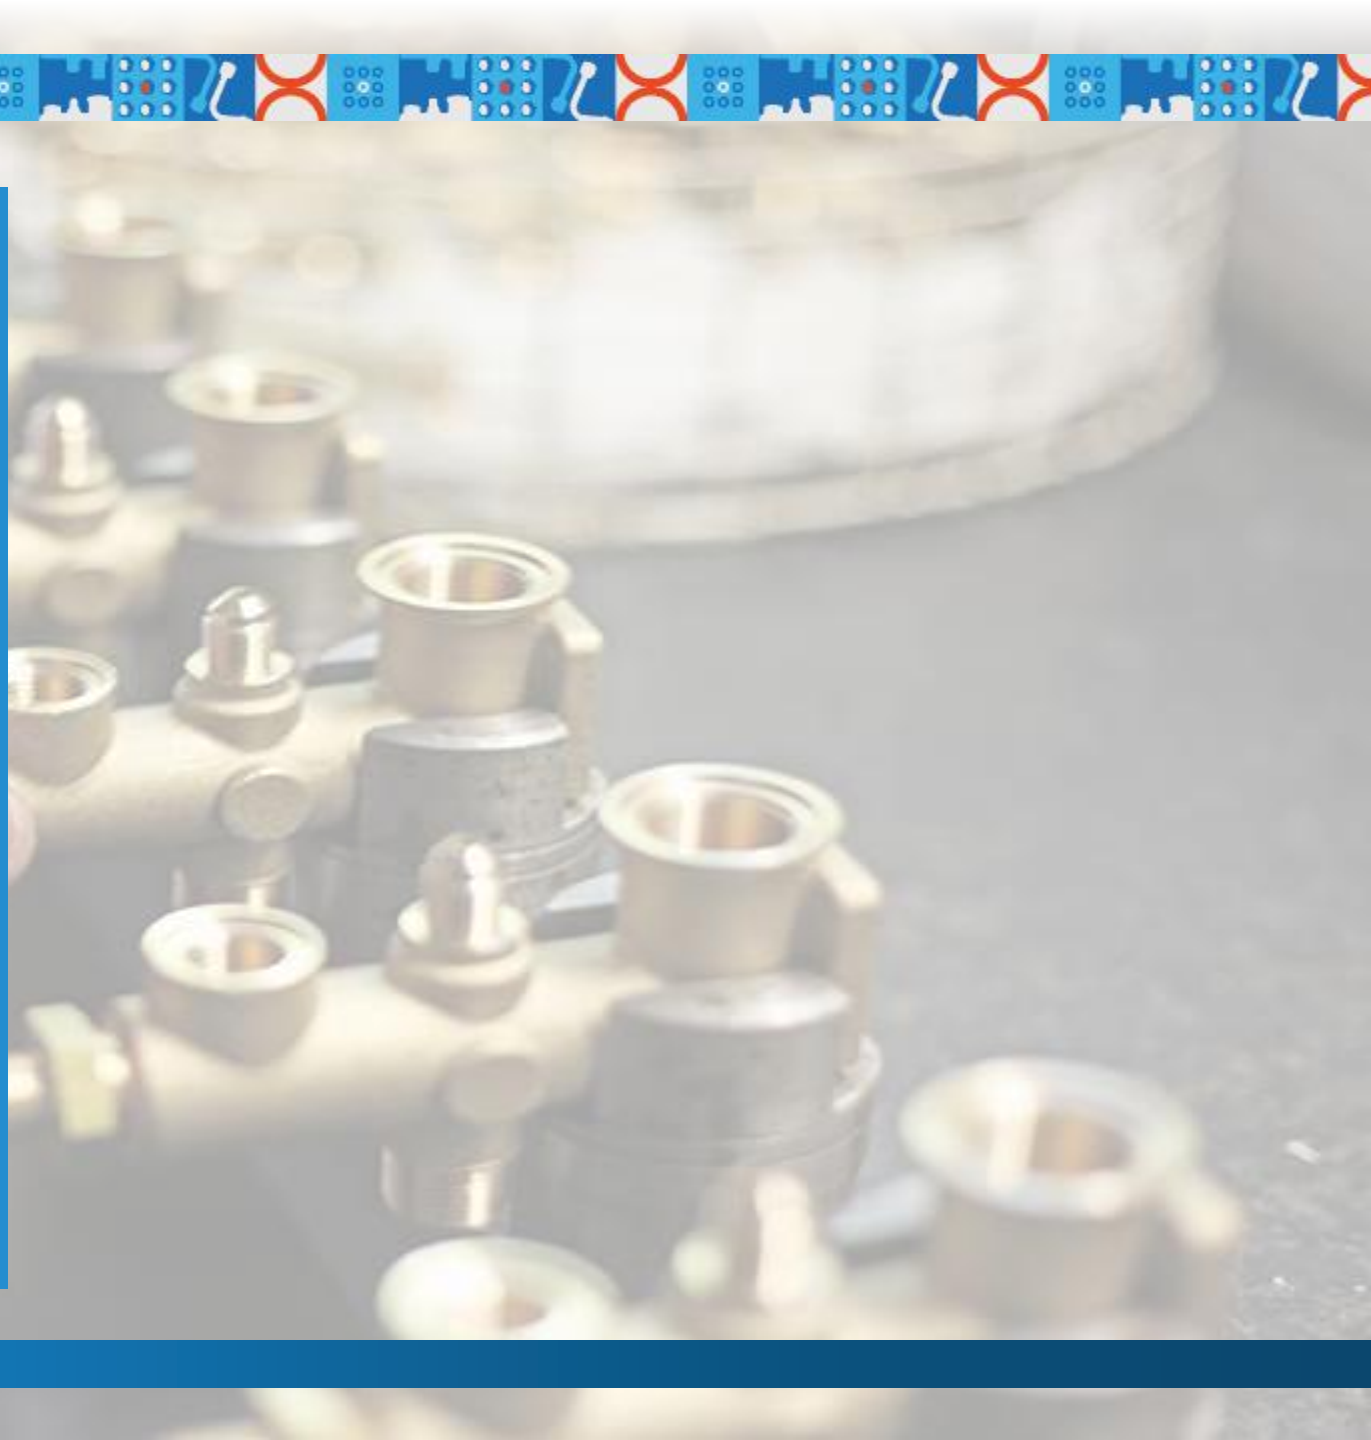

Quality

DVG De Vecchi has a quality management system (QMS) organized and structured according to “good manufacturing practices”.

The GMPs referred to our QMS provide for the application of control procedures at the different stages of the production chain, starting from the design testing and receipt of the raw material and/or components from suppliers, up to the shipment of finished products. All inspections are tracked and recorded by the ERP, the management of non-conformities is done through the use of methodologies based on the analysis of the causes, their treatment, and the corrective or preventive actions to be undertaken.

Logistics

Our warehouse, which currently stores more than 50.000 stock items, is equipped with 3 component storage units with semi-automatic loading and unloading to enable space optimization and faster picking. Each component is codified, located and mapped. The entire warehouse area has over 1.400 pallet spaces.

Values

DVG De Vecchi believes in the values that, before anything else, are the basis of internal relationships and those between the stakeholders.

Everyone makes their own choices and is the protagonist of their own life, inevitably influencing that of the people around them, both in personal and professional life. Listening, inclusion, respect, caring, promotion of individual aptitudes and support of teamwork are some of the values that our company promotes on a daily basis. Nowadays, topics such as sustainability, re-use and care for the environment are not only essential for the purpose of preserving the planet, but also an integral part of human and corporate growth.

Memberships

Memberships in the most important associations in the world of coffee and trade - such as ASSOFOODTEC, ANIMA, SCA, UCIMAC - allow the company to stay up-to-date on regulations and trends in the industry and to be proactive thanks to its gained experience and recognized reputation.

Future

Customer oriented

Our vision revolves around this simple but at the same time complex concept. Continuous training, investment in equipment and software, research and development, innovation, quality, are part of our mission. DVG De Vecchi's identity is the continuous search for balance between improving the present and looking towards the future. This allows our customers and suppliers to rely on a solid partner with whom to strengthen a long-lasting and mutual profitable collaboration.
